WE NOMINATE

The hundred or more Princetonians who this past week—in the face of calamity—proved all that is meant by one of the most heart-warming of all proverbs, "Love and help thy neighbor." At precisely 4:41 p.m., Tuesday, March 22d, an inexplicable, ground-hugging twister, swooped out of the West, skipped over the railroad tracks at Princeton Junction, ricocheted through the Conover & Emmons lumberyard and smashed with unimaginable force into the warehouse of Bohren's Moving and Storage Company. Seconds later, after some 7,000 square feet of roof had swirled into space and two fortress-thick sidewalls had crumbled, a Princeton business firm was confronted with ruin.

At the moment no one had either the time or the inclination to keep a minute-by-minute account of just what transpired. It was nasty cold, and was raining intermittently, and hundreds of carefully stored pieces of furniture, paintings and fling-cases, valued at thousands of dollars, were at the mercy of the elements. Neighbors started appearing on the scene. A photographer rigged up a temporary lightingsystem; the farmer next door placed his barn at the victims' disposal; Conover & Emmons and H. & R. Motors swung into action; chaos and despair gave way to neighborly organized order. By 6:00 p.m. it was apparent that Bohren's had "even more friends than it had troubles." From all quarters of the community came assistance and countless offers of assistance. The Princeton Junction Volunteer Fire Company manned emergency generators, electricians worked miracles and Prince Chevrolet, Inc. provided floodlights. Tarpaulins to serve as temporary roofing were made immediately available by the University, Princeton's Company B (253d Tank Battalion, N.J. National Guard) and the Gilbert Construction Company of Kingston. Leaned trucks trundled furniture across the road to the H. & R. garage, which had been cleared for emergency storage purposes. The Lions Club of Princeton canceled its regular Tuesday meeting and some 25 of its members, many of them unaccustomed to the aches and pains of heavy physical work, sweated past midnight.

Nor did it all stop there. Executives of Educational Testing Service and commuters "back from New York" worked shoulder-to-shoulder with the Lions, while Renwick's, the Princeton Junction General Store and neighbors by families ferried coffee and sandwiches throughout the evening. The next morning two of Bohren's competitors, Manning's Warehouse Corporation and the Perry Express and Storage Company, dispatched trucks and men to the Junction "to lend a hand." Peravel Trucking offered tractor-trailers and both the First National Bank of Princeton and the Princeton Bank and National Bank of Princeton asked Bohren's to call upon them for whatever help might be needed. And from any number of Bohren's customers came expressions of sympathy and offers of financial aid.

For transforming near-disaster into what could be termed a "community triumph," for strengthening one of the basic American traditions—the concept of neighborliness; for giving Princeton a deep sense of pride in what Princetonians can accomplish under the most possible conditions; for showing to the world and the many others who participated in this spontaneous outpouring of friendship are Town Topics' nominees for

Topics of the Town

Variety. More than 60 events crowd the current Calendar of the Week, while the week's news is just as many-sided. Among the more than 200 classified advertisements in Town Topics is one offering a house for rent in Oxford, England.

On the news front, one of the community's most famed institutions quietly marked its birthday, while another confirmed expansion plans and the Post Office was told that helicopter service for a town which has a greater volume of air mail than Trenton or New Brunswick will be least temporarily discontinued.

Coming up are regular monthly sessions for the dual governing bodies, while notice of the deadline for absentee ballots reminded voters that primary elections are less than a fortnight away. There was bad news for the University (a costly fire) and good news for motorists (licenses by mail).

Helicopter Service to End. New York Airways in a letter to Postmaster Murray this week reported that Civil Aeronautics Board restrictions on their mileage will mean the suspension of helicopter air mail service on April 24.

The company said it is making immediate appeal to the CAB for additional mileage, so that the projected end of the special service may be only temporary. A return to the trucking of air mail from its starting point here may mean a delay of as much as a full day in delivery in some cases.

Institute Celebrates 25th. A private dinner at the Princeton Inn on Tuesday marked the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Institute for Advanced Study by Louis Bamberger and his sister, Mrs. Felix Fuld.

Some 80 persons, including Dr. Albert Einstein, members of the Institute, and present and former members of the board of trustees, attended the dinner. Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, director of the world-famous center for high-level research and scholarship, was the principal speaker. Dr. Harold F. Cherniss, of the faculty, read a brief history prepared by Herbert H. Maass, chairman of the board of trustees.

ETS Adds 10 Nassau. Educational Testing Service this week confirmed the report carried here two weeks ago that it will move part of its steadily-growing operations into the 10 Nassau Street location formerly occupied by Beniman's.

The latest in a series of expansion moves by the testing and research organization will take effect around May 1. The decision as to which of the ETS activities will be relocated in the new quarters has not been made as yet. The lease of 10 Nassau was negotiated through Edmund Cook and Company.

Township Hearings Monday. Three ordinances, all of which reflect growth of Princeton Township, will be up for public hearing Monday evening at 8 in Township Hall.

One measure will create a permanent, paid five-member Board of Assessors to determine property assessments for local improvements. The municipality has been served up to now by three-member boards working voluntarily at the request of the Township Committee. Assessment problems such as the enormously complex Carassa Park road levies (still to be completed after six months of work) have pointed the way to proposed creation of a permanent board.

Other ordinances to be considered are one that will raise the fee for new sewer connections from $2 to $15, and another which would set up a new formula for charging for sewer service. The latter measure will affect approximately 11% of the Township's sewer users whose water consumption is above 15,000 cubic feet annually.

Absentee Ballot Deadline. The League of Women Voters this week called attention to the fact that this Monday, April 11, is the deadline for applications for absentee ballots.

TORNADO... New Jersey Style

It seemed incredible that a tornado should strike in New Jersey... until 4:41 P.M., March 22, 1955, when a roaring twister descended on Bohren's Moving & Storage building at Princeton Junction. In less time than it takes to tell, the monster had gone, leaving in the wake of its fury, a scene that can only be described as "fantastic".

Our agency had the insurance on the devastated building, and we are humbly proud of our small contribution to remedy the chaos. Less than 30 minutes after the twister passed, Ellsworth Gosling, manager of this agency, was on the scene with an adjuster... less than 48 hours later, the bids for re-building had been approved and work was under way; and ten days after the blow, the claim had been paid... IN FULL.

It's the kind of service we like to render and CAN provide when clients take our advice—as Bohren's did—for PROPER insurance protection.

sentee ballots to be cast in the April 19 primary elections. A properly registered voter is eligible for such a ballot if he expects to be out of the state or the country on election day, or is unable to cast his ballot at the polls because of illness or physical disability.

Applications should be made to the Clerk of Mercer County, Court House, Trenton, in person or by letter. Home address, the address to which the ballot should be sent, and the reason for application should be included in the letter, as well as the signature used when signing at the polls.

Fire on the Campus. Fire of undetermined origin Tuesday afternoon caused serious damage to the University's Murray-Dodge Hall, with the blaze starting in a third-floor janitor's room. Flames, smoke and water were responsible for a loss estimated by Chief Charles J. Rocknak at upwards of $15,000.

Eric Mende of 255 Harrison Street, a janitor in the building, discovered the blaze at 3:15. The fire was already burning so fiercely that his head was singed when he opened the door to the third-floor room.

All fire-fighting apparatus responded to the general alarm, with the town's three companies on the scene for an hour. Damage extended to three students' rooms and the rooms of Rabbi Irving Levy of the student Hillel foundation; new furniture and other interior decorating improvements installed last summer on the first and second floors; and clothing in the basement-operated Student Tailor Shop.

Mail Order Licenses Approved. Automobile registrations and drivers' licenses by mail, a motorists' dream and the state Legislature's annual topic of debate without decision for nearly two decades, will become a reality by 1956. Law-makers in Trenton passed the bill this week and it awaits only Governor Meyner's signature, a move considered certain on his part inasmuch as the proposed change had previously received his endorsement.

While a number of details must still be planned, the new law will call for a staggered expiration of the permanent license plates now in use. Drivers' birthdays will probably be used, thus spreading the burden of renewals over a 12-month period.

The plan provides for a scale of passenger car registrations, pegged at $10, $15 and $25, depending on the weight of the automobile. Licenses may be renewed for one year at the present cost of $3 or three years for $8.

The number of motor vehicle agencies in the State will be reduced from 150 to 35, and information on license and registration will be kept with data now compiled on safety inspections. The plan is expected to cut administrative costs by as much as $100,000 annually, but will require construction of a central office building to house the records and administer the program. Such a structure is tentatively earmarked for U. S. Route 1 between Princeton and Trenton, near Baker's Basin.

Court Action. The season crop of motorists who fail to have their vehicles properly registered on time ran to a dozen this week in Borough court. Those fined included:

It's New to Us

File 13. Housewives, looking for a place to file unwanted invitations, milk bills and 1954 calendars may now examine some new and extremely attractive wastebaskets made by Mrs. Grote Albert of Princeton. Call her at 1813-J and arrange to visit her, or ask her to call on you.

She will show you oval baskets made of a strong metal that will stand up and not cave in. The outside of each basket has been covered by Mrs. Albert with a printed fabric. The cloth is glued on with a special cement that gives a perfectly smooth surface and practically guarantees that the cloth will never peel off.

One basket for a kitchen is covered with red gingham. On the gingham Mrs. Albert has glued a dozen of those tiny doll-house accessories: one-inch bread loaves, half-inch milk bottle, and so on. Another basket, completely different in character, is covered with a soft print that is mostly pale pink carnations on a white ground. A pink satin cord stretches down the side, concealing the seam, and there are rhinestone dew-drops in each flower. For a den, there is a basket with big colorful decoys swimming on a white pond. Mrs. Albert has glued a shiny rhinestone into the eye of each duck.

For a summer house at the shore there is a beach scene—with a pearl glued into the oyster shell. For a modern room, a charcoal and black abstract print. For any room at all, a rich India print whose colors have been subtly enhanced by touches of gold paint from Mrs. Albert's brush. Plain blue and white ticking covers another basket and a navy blue monogram personalizes the cover.

Basket insides are black, but Mrs. Albert will have them sprayed in any color you like. She will also make a basket from any fabric pieces you have. Prices are in the neighborhood of $7 per basket, going up as the fabric price goes up. A splendid wedding gift, and one that Mrs. Albert will gift-wrap to your order.

Winter Is Past... and magnolia time is nearly upon us. Plant the pink magnolia from Howe's Nursery in Pennington. The price is $5.50. Or try a weeping cherry ($12.50 and $16.50) if you want quite a different effect. Plant these now for a good spring start.

Specials at Howe's while they last (once they're gone, you're out of luck) are hemlocks for a screen, a specimen or a well-pruned green "fence"—they are $2.65, six for $15, 20 for $45. At the same price, there are small members of the broad-leaf family: laurel, azalea and rhododendron in baby plants that will grow to full sized ones eventually—buy them young and save.

For Easter, the Howe Nurseries have potted flowers: lilies, tulips, daffodils, hyacinths, azaleas and hydrangeas. You may have a handsome Easter floral gift for as low as $1.35—that's an azalea—or all the way to $4.50.

If you want advice on buying and planting before you invest, Howe's specialists will tell you all you want to know. And the Nursery is open now seven days a week until 9 p.m. This is for the week-end gardener who shops on Saturday or week-day evenings, and the Sunday-afternoon browser.

Oyster Buck. One thinks of a pearl in an oyster, rather than a buck, but it turns out that Hult's means a different kind of buck. This is the shoe-leather kind, and it appears in an oyster-colored flat heeled shoe for ladies. It is flexible without being limp. It comes in red or maroon chain besides the oyster and its costs $8.95.

Also at 140 Nassau, is a large assortment of canvas shoes, ranging from pink sneakers—pink!—for customers so young they can't even tell what color their sneakers are, to a sophisticated Redie in champagne with pindots outlining the edge. (Lemon or black, if you haven't a taste for champagne). Another canvas has small brown leaves painted on its vamp.

If you prefer leather, there are new things by California Cobblers—made of glove leather, they have a cushion crepe sole and white stitching on black. An Italian type has no thong, but lean brown straps across the toe to hold it on. Another Cobbler made of glove leather has a wide fringed band over the toe with a decorative buckle that matches the utilitarian buckle that holds the sandal on.

A more substantial sandal in a color they call "bitterscotch" has a two-inch band over the toes, a sling heel and buckle strap. You may have seen another Cobbler—Continued on Page 21

Mrs. Lester B. Chandler, Mrs. Donald E. Chaley, Harry Hazard and Professor Richard Lester will represent the parents, with Mrs. J. C. Lambert Jr., Mercer County P. T. A. president, as a guest. Chester R. Stroup, assistant superintendent and principal of the Nassau Street School, and Thomas J. Durrell, recently retired assistant commissioner of Education for the State of New Jersey, will be the consultants.

Association to Mark Anniversary. Mrs. Thorn Lead of Princeton, president of the Association of the Neuro-Psychiatric Institute at Skillman, has announced that the association will mark its first anniversary April 27 with a day-long program to be held at Smalley Hall on the grounds of the Institute. Mrs. Hibben Ziesing of Princeton will direct the affair.

The association, a voluntary organization, was formed to promote wider understanding of the work of the Institute throughout the state. The Institute is a state-supported hospital now in process of changing from a custodial institution for epileptics to a treatment and research center for many types of mental disorders.

Beginning at 9:30, the program will feature two motion pictures, a panel of resident physicians in a question and answer period, a flower show and a tour of the Institute. The New Jersey Institute is located on the Belle Mead-Blawenburg Road six miles north of Princeton.

John Fugill were elected as Trustees, while Joseph Wilson will serve as Inside Guard and Harold Wilson as Outside Guard.

Forums Popular. Nearly 100 Princetonians have been attending the neighborhood meetings for the study of the Bill of Rights and its application to current problems, the Princeton Forum on Individual Liberties has announced.

With the growing interest in this phase of the country's history, the Princeton Borough Library has arranged a display of materials used by the groups, together with a shelf of supplementary reading on associated topics. The groups are also using six pamphlets now on sale at the Princeton Book Mart as extra background material.

The Forum has also reported the addition of two members to the panel of discussion leaders: Ansley J. Coale, Associate in the Office of Population Research of the Woodrow Wilson School, and Mark M. Heald, Associate Professor in the Rutgers University Department of History. The other members of the panel include William M. Beaney Jr., Harold W. Chase, Gabriel A. Almond, William Ebenstein, Charles G. Sellers Jr., and Lloyd M. Wells.

The weekly meetings, which begin at 8:15, are scheduled for the following places: Monday, April 11, 18, 25, Witherspoon Y. M.C.A.; Tuesday, April 12, 19, 26, Nassau Street Methodist Church; Wednesday, April 13, 20, 27, home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Goodheart, 175 Prospect Street; and Thursday, April 14, 21, 28, Princeton Borough Library. Attendance at any of them may be arranged by calling Mrs. Harold Cherniss (1-3363).

YM-YW Building on the Way. The building committee, which will authorize working architects' drawings for Princeton's new joint YMCA-YWCA "community house" is scheduled to hold its first meeting next week.

The committee headed by Gerald D. Nelson was named at a meeting of the trustees of the joint YM-YW, following a report from John P. Woodbridge, general chairman of the building fund campaign, who cited record pledges in excess of $506,000 received to date and the prospect of reaching the $750,000 goal, based on the number of potential contributors still to be seen and those who have requested that they be seen again.

Members of the building committee group, which is a sub-group of the new "completion committee," are Dr. Elmer W. Engstrom, Samuel Frothingham, Mrs. E. Harris Harrison, Robert C. Miller, Robert S. Rowe, Gordon G. Sikes and J. T. Vollbrecht.

Justice A. Dayton Oliphant, chairman of the joint board, will serve as general chairman of the completion committee. Membership of a second sub-group, the building fund committee, will be named shortly.

In other action, the trustees appointed a finance committee to assist the treasurer of the joint corporation, Dr. Charles R. Erdman, members of the finance committee — Continued on Page 7

Opening Gun. The Princeton Republican Club turned the local political spotlight on 1956 this week with a resolution urging President Eisenhower to seek reelection. Stating that he "has, during his first two years in office, demonstrated the highest qualities of leadership," the club endorses both his domestic and foreign policies.

The resolution also points to the deep regard, respect and affection which the vast majority of the citizens of this country have for him. Copies were sent to the White House, to Senators Case and Smith and the state and national G.O.P. chairmen.

Magistrate Named. Nicholas Castoro, Hopewell magistrate for the past five years and an attorney in that community, has been appointed magistrate in Rocky Hill. Mr. Castoro will be sworn into office at the April meeting of the Rocky Hill borough council, scheduled for Monday.

He replaces Ralph S. Mason, Princeton attorney, who had served for the past year. Mr. Mason was required by the State Supreme Court to resign following his election to the Princeton Township Committee.

Cancer Drive Initiated. The drive for funds in the Princeton area by the American Cancer Society will be conducted this month with Ralph S. Mason as chairman of the campaign. Part of the society's national drive, the Princeton group under Mr. Mason has been given the quota of $7,800.

The goal set by the national society for this year's campaign is $24,000,000. Some 25% of this sum will be used in the field of research, Mr. Mason said.

During the past 10 years, the American Cancer Society has allocated more than $34,945,000 to its national research program. More than 1,000 scientists are presently engaged in hospitals, universities and laboratories seeking the cause of cancer so that the disease can be prevented.

Jewish Appeal to Open. Rubin Schwarlzstein has been named chairman of the 1955 United Jewish Appeal in Princeton in a campaign which will be launched by a Special Gifts dinner at the Princeton Inn on April 27. A tea for the Women's division will follow on May 11.

The funds collected in the drive are used in Israel to build agricultural settlements, finance housing projects, help new-comers, provide irrigation and support industry. Part of the collection is also used for selected Jewish activities in the United States.

Professor Albert Einstein is serving as honorary chairman of the Princeton committee, while Harry Ballot, Dr. Paul Oppenheim, Professor Hetty Goldman and Professor Irwin Panofsky are honorary officers. Members of the committee include Mrs. Leonard Hymerling, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Benjamin Miller, financial secretary; Murray Abelson, treasurer; Mrs. Marver H. Bernstein, women's division; and Mrs. Jerome Karsman, publicity. Members of the executive board are Dr. Henry Abrams, Dr. William Z. Abrams, Irving E. Alexander, Marver H. ## Sports in Princeton

Impressive Debut. Princeton's 1955 baseball fortunes moved a step upward Tuesday when a six-foot-three-inch sophomore named Leighton Ford walked to the mound and proceeded to throw a four-hit shutout against Lehigh. As the Tigers were bunting their runs in two innings for a 5-0 victory, the 18-year-old right-handed fanned six, scattered the four safeties and two walks he gave and allowed only two opponents to reach second.

While it was the losers' first game of the season and other teams to face Ford will have sharper batting eyes in the weeks ahead, his performance was impressive. He went the distance

Call for Softball
Nassau Aerie 2732, Fraternal Order of Eagles, which sponsors the community softball leagues each summer, has announced that a meeting to plan the 1955 season will be held Monday at 8 p.m. It will take place at the Eagles' home, 134 Nassau Street.

All team managers, sponsors and those interested in serving as umpires are asked to attend. Schedules will be drawn as soon as a full quota of teams are entered and play will begin next month.

without trouble (despite a coolish April afternoon and a bout with measles last week), rarely falling behind the batter and showing a good, low fast ball and an adequate change-up.

Every starting player but right-fielder Pete Millard and shortstop Jim Perkins shared in Princeton's 11-hit attack, sophomore catcher Ed McMillan's double going as the lone extra-base blow. Captain John Easton contributed three straight hits, Royce Flippin adding two to keep his average near .500 and both placed in the runs batted in column.

With two away in the sixth, Gordy Gray singled to left and Millard walked. Easton's sharp single got away from the center fielder to score both runners, the Tiger center fielder going all the way to third. Hank Thomas's hit between first and second then made it a three-run inning.

With two aboard in the seventh, Flippin's second hit tightened the right-field foul line to chase two more across and give Ford plenty of insurance. The Tigers played errorless ball for the second day in a row as they won their third straight.

Villanova this Thursday at 2:30 and Maine Friday afternoon at 3, both on University Field, will finish the vacation week schedule. Next week, it's Manhattan on Tuesday at 4 and the Ivy League season opener Friday at the same hour with Brown providing the opposition. Colgate will be here Saturday, April 16.

Dr. Silverman, who trained at the Children's Medical Center, Boston, and the Baltimore City Hospitals, has served as a Research Associate in Pediatrics on the faculty of the Harvard Medical School. He has published papers in national medical journals on congenital and rheumatic heart disease.

Rhythm Hops, The Man Admits. "Like most rabbits, I have habits. That are cute and useful, too. And the nicest is at Easter. Bringing pretty things to you."

This, according to Martin Liples, Western Union manager, is one of the most popular of the 23 suggested rhymes on the Easter Bunnygram blank, a personal telegram to the children from "Peter Rabbit" in "Bunnyland."

Mr. Liples pointed out that the volume of Bunnygrams is expected to increase 25% over last year, although still trailing far behind Santa in seasonal popularity. He ranked Easter with Christmas and Mother's Day as the big periods in the telegram business.

"The rhythm is pretty hippy-hop in those poems," the manager admitted. "But what can you expect from a rabbit?"

Miscellany. The High School Canteen, which has been attended each Saturday by scores of teenagers in the Princeton community, will not be open Saturday, the night before Easter. It will resume its weekly program at the Witherspoon Community House on April 16.

The Junior Faculty Wives will hold their April meeting Wednesday at 8:15 in the lounge of the Engineering Building on Washington Road. Gwen King will speak on "Some Questions While Painting." Mrs. Kenneth Condit will be the hostess.

The annual Easter Flower Sale of the Italian-American Sportsmen's Club is now in progress on Witherspoon Street opposite the Hook and Ladder Company firehouse. It will continue through Easter morning.

Frederick J. Almgren, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Almgren of 20 Southern Way, has been elected to the Princeton Phi Beta Kappa Society for outstanding academic achievement during his first three years at the University.

Miss Irene MacConnell is a freshman at Moravian College, Bethlehem, Pa., where she is majoring in medical technology. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving MacConnell, 42 North Tulaue Street.

George J. Willis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis of 43 Spring Street, has been elected to the literary quarterly magazine at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn. He is a member of the junior class.

William H. Meagher of Fisher Place received a master of laws degree in trade regulation from New York University last winter. He will take part in the university's commencement exercises in June.

THE ONLY REASON that Town Topics has so many more classified ads than all other Princeton papers combined is because Town Topics gets so many more results.

News of the Theatres
"New Theatre." A number of names well-known to local theatre-goers, headed by Charles H. (Chiz) Schultz, are to be found at work in New York's most recent off-Broadway theatre enterprise, New Theatre. As a matter of fact, the group calls itself "an extension of Princeton's 'University Players'."
New Theatre opens its doors this Thursday at 52 East 78th Street with an unusual and interesting bill of one-act plays. Dylan Thomas, F. Scott Fitzgerald and Wayne Lawson, a member of the Princeton Class of 1954 who achieved the remarkable record of winning Theatre Intime's original play contest for three years in a row, will be represented.
The engagement is for one week only (through next Wednesday, April 13) and curtain time at the theatre (which is the Finch College Theatre) will be 8:40. Tickets are $2 and $1.50 and may be reserved by calling WATKINS 9-0024.
The one-act plays will be "Adventures in the Skin Trade" adapted for the theatre from a novel which was unfinished at the time of Thomas' death; "Three Hours Between Planes", considered one of Fitzgerald's most celebrated short stories; and Mr. Lawson's "Fast Reason", the first of his prize-winning plays here.
New Theatre will operate on a "new plays—well done" basis. It is non-profit and proceeds will be used for future production. With a few exceptions, the personnel consists of young actors and actresses holding down regular jobs in New York and spending their free time on the new enterprise.
Mr. Schultz, who organized and ran the University Players here in the summers of 1953 and '54, is a co-producer with M. Thomas Wilson (also Princeton '54) and Betty King. The director for the group is Al Morgenstern, while sets for the current production have been done by Hugh Hardy, another well-known name here.
Included in the casts for the plays are Philip Minor, Lelia Barry, George Petranec, Ronald Hawkins assist in the action-filled, sea-going affair, Good color and CinemaScope photography (on location in Australia).
A Man Called Peter (April 13-19) is the CinemaScope and color film biography of the famous
The Racers (April 7-9) starring Kirk Douglas has been rescheduled here. Douglas plays a mean and rough driver in Europe's sports car world who fights his way to the top. The CinemaScope color camera catches many a thrill of the sport, and the European scenes are eye-filling. Bella Darvi and Gilbert Roland are also starred.
Long John Silver (April 10-12) is a well-made sequel to "Treasure Island" designed for the delight of the adolescent mind— young or old. Robert Newton is a stirring Long John, questing for gold bullion and such. Connie Gilchrist and Kit Taylor (as Jim Hawkins) assist in the action-filled, sea-going affair. Good color and CinemaScope photography (on location in Australia).

Music in Princeton

HIGH SCHOOL CHOIR
The 65-voice choir of Princeton High School will present Hon-egger's oratorio "King David" next Friday and Saturday evenings (April 15 and 16) at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. Tickets at $1 may be obtained through any member of the choir or by calling 1450.

Thomas Hilbish will direct the choir in the work telling the story of King David's life. The oratorio was composed by Hon-egger in 1921 for performance at the Theatre de Jorat in Switzerland. It has since been performed many times in various countries. Mathilde McKlancy and Laverne Jackson will play the dual piano accompaniment. A small orchestra will also take part. The musical score is linked by a narrative, which will be spoken by Steven Young the first night and Ted D'Arms the second evening. Priscilla Muller will take the other speaking part, that of the Witch of Endor.

The orchestra will perform under its conductor, Nicholas Harnsmyth, and a vocal soloist will be assembled from members of the University, Westminster Choir College and the Columbus Boy-choir School.

The opera in one-act by Professor Sessions will have its first performances in the East. It is based on a libretto by Bertold Brecht in which at the death of the warrior and conqueror Lucullus his friends, associates, soldiers and citizens of Rome speak to him in varying degrees of hatred and admiration.

The stage production here will be directed by Kurt Graff, who with his wife is the founder and director of Meadow-Hearth, the Art Center of New Hampshire. Widely known as both a director and a choreographer, Mr. Graff was associated with the State Opera House in Berlin and Essen and with the Bayreuth Festivals before making his home in this country.

Mr. Sessions, one of this country's most distinguished composers, rejoined the music department at Princeton in the fall of 1953, having taught here also from 1935 to 1945. He is a past winner of the New York Music Critics' Circle and the Naumburg Foundation awards.

THE GARDEN
Adventures of Hajji Baba (April 7-9) has such a fantastic and servery collection of melodramatics, action, girl bandits and such that it's funny. CinemaScope and color cameras create a Hollywood medieval Persia. The matter contingent headed by Elaine Stewart features filmic costuming, while John Derek and Thomas Gomez head the male Arabian Nights group.

Three Coins in the Fountain (April 11-13), possessor of one "Oscar" for its wonderful CinemaScope and color photography in Italy and another for its title song, returns here for a second engagement. In addition to its scenic attractions, the film has three mild little romances involving Clifton Webb, Dorothy McGuire, Jean Peters, Louis Jourdan, Maggie McNamara and Rossano Brazzi.

Chief Crazy Horse (April 14-16) is a regular mistreated-Indian western, handled a bit more carefully than usual. Victor Mature plays the noble and fiery warrior in question; Susan Ball is his squaw; John Lund his white friend, and Ray Danton his chief tormentor. In color and CinemaScope.

Sports in Princeton

Brophy at Bat. "I was worried," the man said, "about Ted Williams—whether or not he was coming back. It would make a difference in the order of finish at the end of the first division in the American League."

Otherwise, it looked like a breeze. A breeze for Brooklyn, of course. Princeton's lumber one Dodger Rooter, the unquenchable Tom Brophy, had his annual list of pennant picks ready when the inquiring reporter walked into his Nassau Street shoe emporium.

"I figure we'll win by ten games," was the unabashed comment of the man who last year was the cause for the founding of the League to Abolish Abuse of the Giants. But in contrast to last year's sixth place allocation for the Polo Grounders (who got their signals crossed and wound up as world champions), Brophy is quite generous this year. He's got 'em third.

In a word, it's a matter of stronger "dependents," as Brophy sees it. "We're depending on Newcombe, Campanella and Pedrie to come through where they did not last year," he pointed out. "I think they will, with Pedrie putting in a full season. Newk coming back to win at least 15 and Campanella regaining his hitting form."

On the other hand, Tom thinks the Giants are banking too much on "Maggie" Jansen and the pinch-hitting of Dusty Rhodes. "He sees Magpie as too old to be as effective as he was last season, Jansen unable to make his projected comeback and Rhodes as "too hot to continue that way another year."

In fact, he thinks, "the whole Giant team played over its head in winning in 1954."

So, Flatbush should be in for a year of rejoicing and Durocher's Dandies will have to beat out the St. Louis Cards for third place. Brophy has the Braves second.

He looks for the Cardinals to be considerably improved, but thinks the other four teams will have little to offer. Cincinnati traded away pitching strength (Frank Smith) it could ill afford to lose. Tom feels, and he has little hope for the Phillies outside of Robin Roberts. The Cubs and the Pirates are tagged with their seventh and eighth-place finishes of a year ago.

American League Choices. About the only problem here (and it's not pressing at the moment) is who will win the World Series. It'll be the New York Yankees against the Dodgers, Brophy predicts. "They've been strengthened by trades and they have better balance than anybody else in the American League," is his analysis.

"Besides, I think the Giants" (perish the name!) "showed last fall what real trouble right-handed pitching can give Cleveland. If they couldn't do better than that in the Series, they'll never repeat as pennant winners."

Tom consigns the Indians to

Something New

For the first time in the post-World War I era, Princeton football teams will wear white jerseys. The Tigers will appear in them only away from home, in accord with a new Ivy League agreement.

To eliminate confusion that has occasionally existed in the past, it has been agreed that the visiting team in Ivy gridiron games will wear white. The league does not become formal until 1956, but Princeton will be in white this fall when it plays at Ithaca and Cambridge. Because Penn plans to play in white jerseys at home this season for the first time, Princeton will wear its traditional black shirts when it invades Franklin Field on October 8.

second place, has the White Sox third again and the Boston Red Sox seven without Williams fourth. He picks Washington to top second division, can't see the young Detroit Tigers as better than sixth and follows with Baltimore and Kansas City. "The A's," he figures, "will be lucky to win 30 games."

That's it, Brophy's in print again, where he's easy prey to all the second-guessers and a prime target for those who are willing to bet he's wrong. It takes courage—specially if Newcombe, Pedrie and Campanella fall a bit short of the mark and Magpie isn't over the hill and Dusty Rhodes' hitting streak continues to break up bill games.

Here's what the man says:

2. Brooklyn	2. Cleveland
3. Milwaukee	3. Chicago
4. St. Louis	4. Boston
5. Cincinnati	5. Washington

Opener Won. Princeton's baseball season got off on the right foot in Philadelphia last Sunday when southpaw Jim Gibson nailed down a 7-5 victory over Temple with four fine innings of shut-out ball. The Owls had whacked pink Enery for seven hits, including two homers, in the first five rounds, but Gibson came along to blank them for the final four, allowing only one runner to reach second base.

The Tigers rapped out a tenth-inning attack off three of the lower pitchers, but it took three successive Temple errors to determine the outcome. The first two miscues were committed on double-play balls and would have gotten starter Larry Grivna out of the inning. As it was, live Princeton runs crossed the plate, the rally crasing a 4-2 deficit.

In the big round, Emery led off with a single, Jim Griffin popped out, shortstop Jim Perkins drew a walk, as did Royce Flippin. When Gordy Gray was hit on the arm, a run was forced in. Pete Millard and John Easton then hit successive grounders to second and short, but the ball was booted on each occasion and each misplay produced a tally. Hank Thomay's fine squeeze bunt then climaxed the inning, scoring Millard and then Flippin when the throw to the plate got away from the catcher.

Flippin, with a leadoff triple on which he scored, plus a clothesline single that drove Emery across in the third, and Emery with a pair of singles, paced the attack. But Dick had trouble on the mound, cutting down on his speed in an effort to improve his control. He was not wild, but the seven hits he yielded in five innings were solid blows, particularly the two long home runs.

The Tigers made four errors apiece, although one report of the game charged them with two and another with seven. Six of their own runs were unearned.

Gibson Again. It was Junior Jim Gibson who picked up the marbles Monday afternoon with another outstanding relief performance as the Tigers trimmed C.C.N.Y., 6-2. He came on with the score tied 2-2 in the top of the seventh and shackled the visitors for the last three rounds while watching his teammates thump starter Bernie Spiro for four runs in the eighth. Craig McClelland, a southpaw like Gibson, had started for the home forces, giving up the two runs on five hits, one of them a triple. That drove in the visitors' first tally in the second and they came up with another on a walk, a fielder's choice and a single in the fifth.

Princeton picked up its first run in the third on successive hits by Jim Perkins and McClelland, a wild pitch and Royce Flippin's fly to center. Two of the losers' three errors and Carl Popel's perfect squeeze bunt that went for a single brought Captain John Easton around in the fourth frame.

Spiro tired in the eighth as he tried to go the distance, and the Tigers lost no time in taking advantage of the fact that he began to groove the ball. The two-out rally gave them their third straight win over the Lavender, which lost by 1-0 scores last spring and in 1953 on University Field.

Four Straight Hits. After Perkins and Gibson had bounced out to the box, Flippin lashed a single into the hole at short. Gordy Gray followed with his first hit of the season, a wrong-field triple that rolled almost to the fence. Bill Agnew promptly golfed a sharp base blow past second to score Gray and when Easton blasted a long shot over the left fielder's head for a home run, that was the ball game. The Tigers made eight hits and came up with errorless ball, a solid performance in view of the skinny practice sessions dictated by the cold, wet spring.

Lacrosse Team Splits. Princeton's lacrosse team topped Dartmouth, 12-7, in its first game of the season last week on Bedford Field. The Tigers were paced by Len Thomson, son of Coach Ferris Thomson, and Bob Stinson with three goals each.

The strong Mount Washington Club took the Orange and Black into camp Saturday, 15 to 8. Following a mid-week game Wednesday against Maryland, the team returned to Princeton to face Harvard Saturday. Game time is 2:30.

Hun Opens Friday. A 15-game baseball schedule for The Hun School starts this Friday with a trip to Croyden Hall. Nine of the red and black games are on the road.

the one with lines across the toes, but a "wall" all around the outside of the foot.
"Buskens", from $3.95, are sandals in black, tan, white or multicolor pastels. The Busken moccasin has a hard sole, colorful top, and lots of beading to make it bright.

The Sheath Suit. Many of the prettiest and most useful spring dresses we saw on a recent visit to Mary Gill 1230 Nassau are sheath dresses with little or no sleeve and a covering jacket. For example, a silk shantung in navy the print is an off white that looks like frankfurters on a sleeve, but is probably something much more dignified.

Or an acetate sheath whose white collar folds over the bright red linen jacket. Orlon and silk make a tweed dress whose jacket has a white collar of its own.

Sweater dresses are more dressed up this year. Sleeveless square necked one is lemon yellow print, the sweater lined with the same. A sleeveless white dress with roses in the print has roses applied on the white sweater. (Blue-green roses, if you prefer.)

One-piece dresses include a black silk shantung with a long overblouse that has black velvet's down the front. In a lighter vein—an aqua and white dress has white tating on its small collar and the edge of its short sleeves.

Suits at Mary Gill include a wool of big black and white checks on skirt and jacket, with a surprise inside: a white linen vest that matches the white collar and cuffs of the jacket. A navy suit has a white blouse with red and black line design, and a lining of the same print.

If it rains when you're wearing your new spring suit, be prepared with a water repellent tweed raincoat whose red flecks are bright enough to send away the rain. A hat matches.

For a fine day, try a pale straw hat whose curving sweep of a brim has a rose underside and rose topside, both sequined. It's 25. For $8.95, there's a straw called lemon ice, and a navy straw with a sensible flat white bow right on the front.

Weather or No. We looked at this coat on a rainy day and it was a raincoat. On a sunny day, with a wind, it would be just warm enough and not at all rainy.

Looking. Comes in a rose beige or grey with a print lining that has lamp-posts, umbrellas and, for some unaccountable reason, horses with blinders. It sells for $23.95 at Bailey's. Cap comes, too.
Orange-red cotton cord makes an overblouse with orange and white stripe sailor collar and sleeves, long torso and pencil straight skirt for $12.95. Bailey's is the store, at 14 Witherspoon.

A pincheek skirt, pleated, has a blouse with short sleeves and round collar, printed with little girls' jumping rope. With blouse and skirt come a pair of white pique gloves.

Here's a straight tube of black, made of a rayon that looks like linen. Its companion is a cotton tweed duster lined with red and colored with black velvet. The ensemble is $19.50.

Mr. Bailey has a bathrobe slip, fluted with small permanent pleats and a shadow panel. In flares, $3.98. Plain with small ruffle, $3.98. On a cotton and rayon bathrobe, the shadow panel goes all the way around, and you never have to iron it.

Still in lingerie, here's a girdle by Gosard, nylon elastic mesh as light as the finger that holds it. The panty style is $5.98 the regular is $4.98 in white.

A shorty gown is wide and flaring, with heat rock and minute sleeves. With it comes a pair of very short bloomers, trimmed with a ruffle at the elastic.

Warm spring and summer days call for cottons like the modified shirt-waist whose print consists of limp socks. One has a hole in the toe, another is still in the spurred boot, another is a fugitive from the laundry bag. Textile designers have their off-beat days, too, apparently.

A splendid open stock set consists of cotton skirt, halter, shorts, Bermuda shorts and little hat, in grey or belon from $5.98 on down. There's a belt and generous patch pockets on the skirt—but no socks.

WE NOMINATE

Claude Purkitt, 35-year old chairman of Princeton University's Department of Military Science, who has been responsible for making preparation for commissioned service in the Army of the United States a challenging obligation for an increasing number of quarters came word that Princeton's ROTC (Field Artillery) Battalion—often overshadowed by the relatively new and possibly more glamorous Air Force and Navy ROTC Units—has been accorded a "Superior Rating" in the Army's annual general inspection of its diverse installations. It was a signal honor to have the Army's inspectors conclude their report with the comment, "There are no recommendations."

In recent years, particularly in liberal arts universities such as Princeton where the competing claims of many pre-professional programs, including medicine, law, engineering and public affairs, have placed a premium on the undergraduates' time, the Armed Forces have had their difficulties in interesting students in military training. Until the California-born Purkitt, a Stanford University alumnus and the son of a California Superior Court judge, assumed direction of the Princeton unit last August, the Army had displayed even more reluctance than the Navy and Air Force in "thickening" its program intellectually—by improving the calibre of its non-technical courses and by permitting prospective reserve officers to capitalize upon the advantages of a university while readying themselves to serve their nation in a military sense. Purkitt, commissioned directly in the Regular Army upon his graduation from Stanford and advanced to his

Self - Restraint, Please. While the world sits back to let the deep significance of the successful Salk Polio vaccine sink in, Princeton (like every other community in the nation) has begun the wait for full distribution of the serum. Black marketing of the commercial vaccine is predicted at the worst in some parts of the nation, as anxious parents and individuals seek out the wonderful new protection against the crippling disease. Princeton doctors, many of whom found that the stream of inquiring calls about the vaccine during the two-week build-up turned into a flood after the carefully-staged announcement, are asking for voluntary control until sufficient supplies become available.

Dr. J. Leonard Moore, Princeton member of the American Academy of Pediatrics, this week released the Academy's recommendations concerning the immediate use of the polio vaccine. First and second grade children in the nation's schools are scheduled to receive the vaccine without charge, through the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Recognizing the insufficient commercial supply and the needs of certain age groups and categories, the Academy's advisory resolution reads:

- (1) While commercially available polio vaccine remains in limited supply, physicians are urged to reserve the vaccine for pre-first grade children over one year of age; for school children in grades three through eight and for pregnant women.
- (2) The public be informed of the temporary need for voluntary control.
- (3) The local community be alerted to the need for providing some method whereby vaccine can be made available for those in the priority groups but unable to pay.
